

How Much Is Enough?

Understanding energy complexity by comparing total consumption and consumption per capita.

1. Energy Use

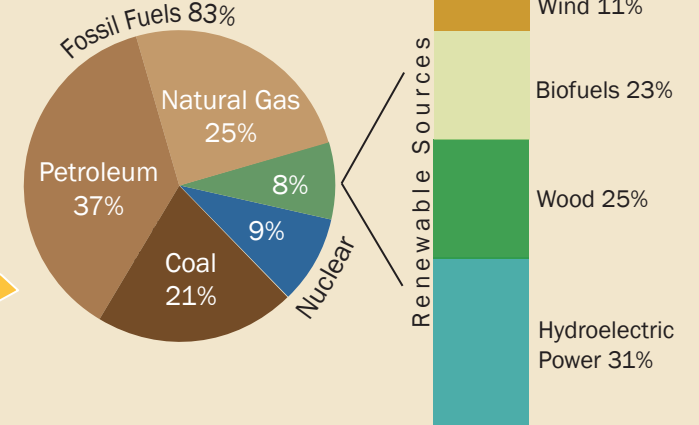

Average across all states

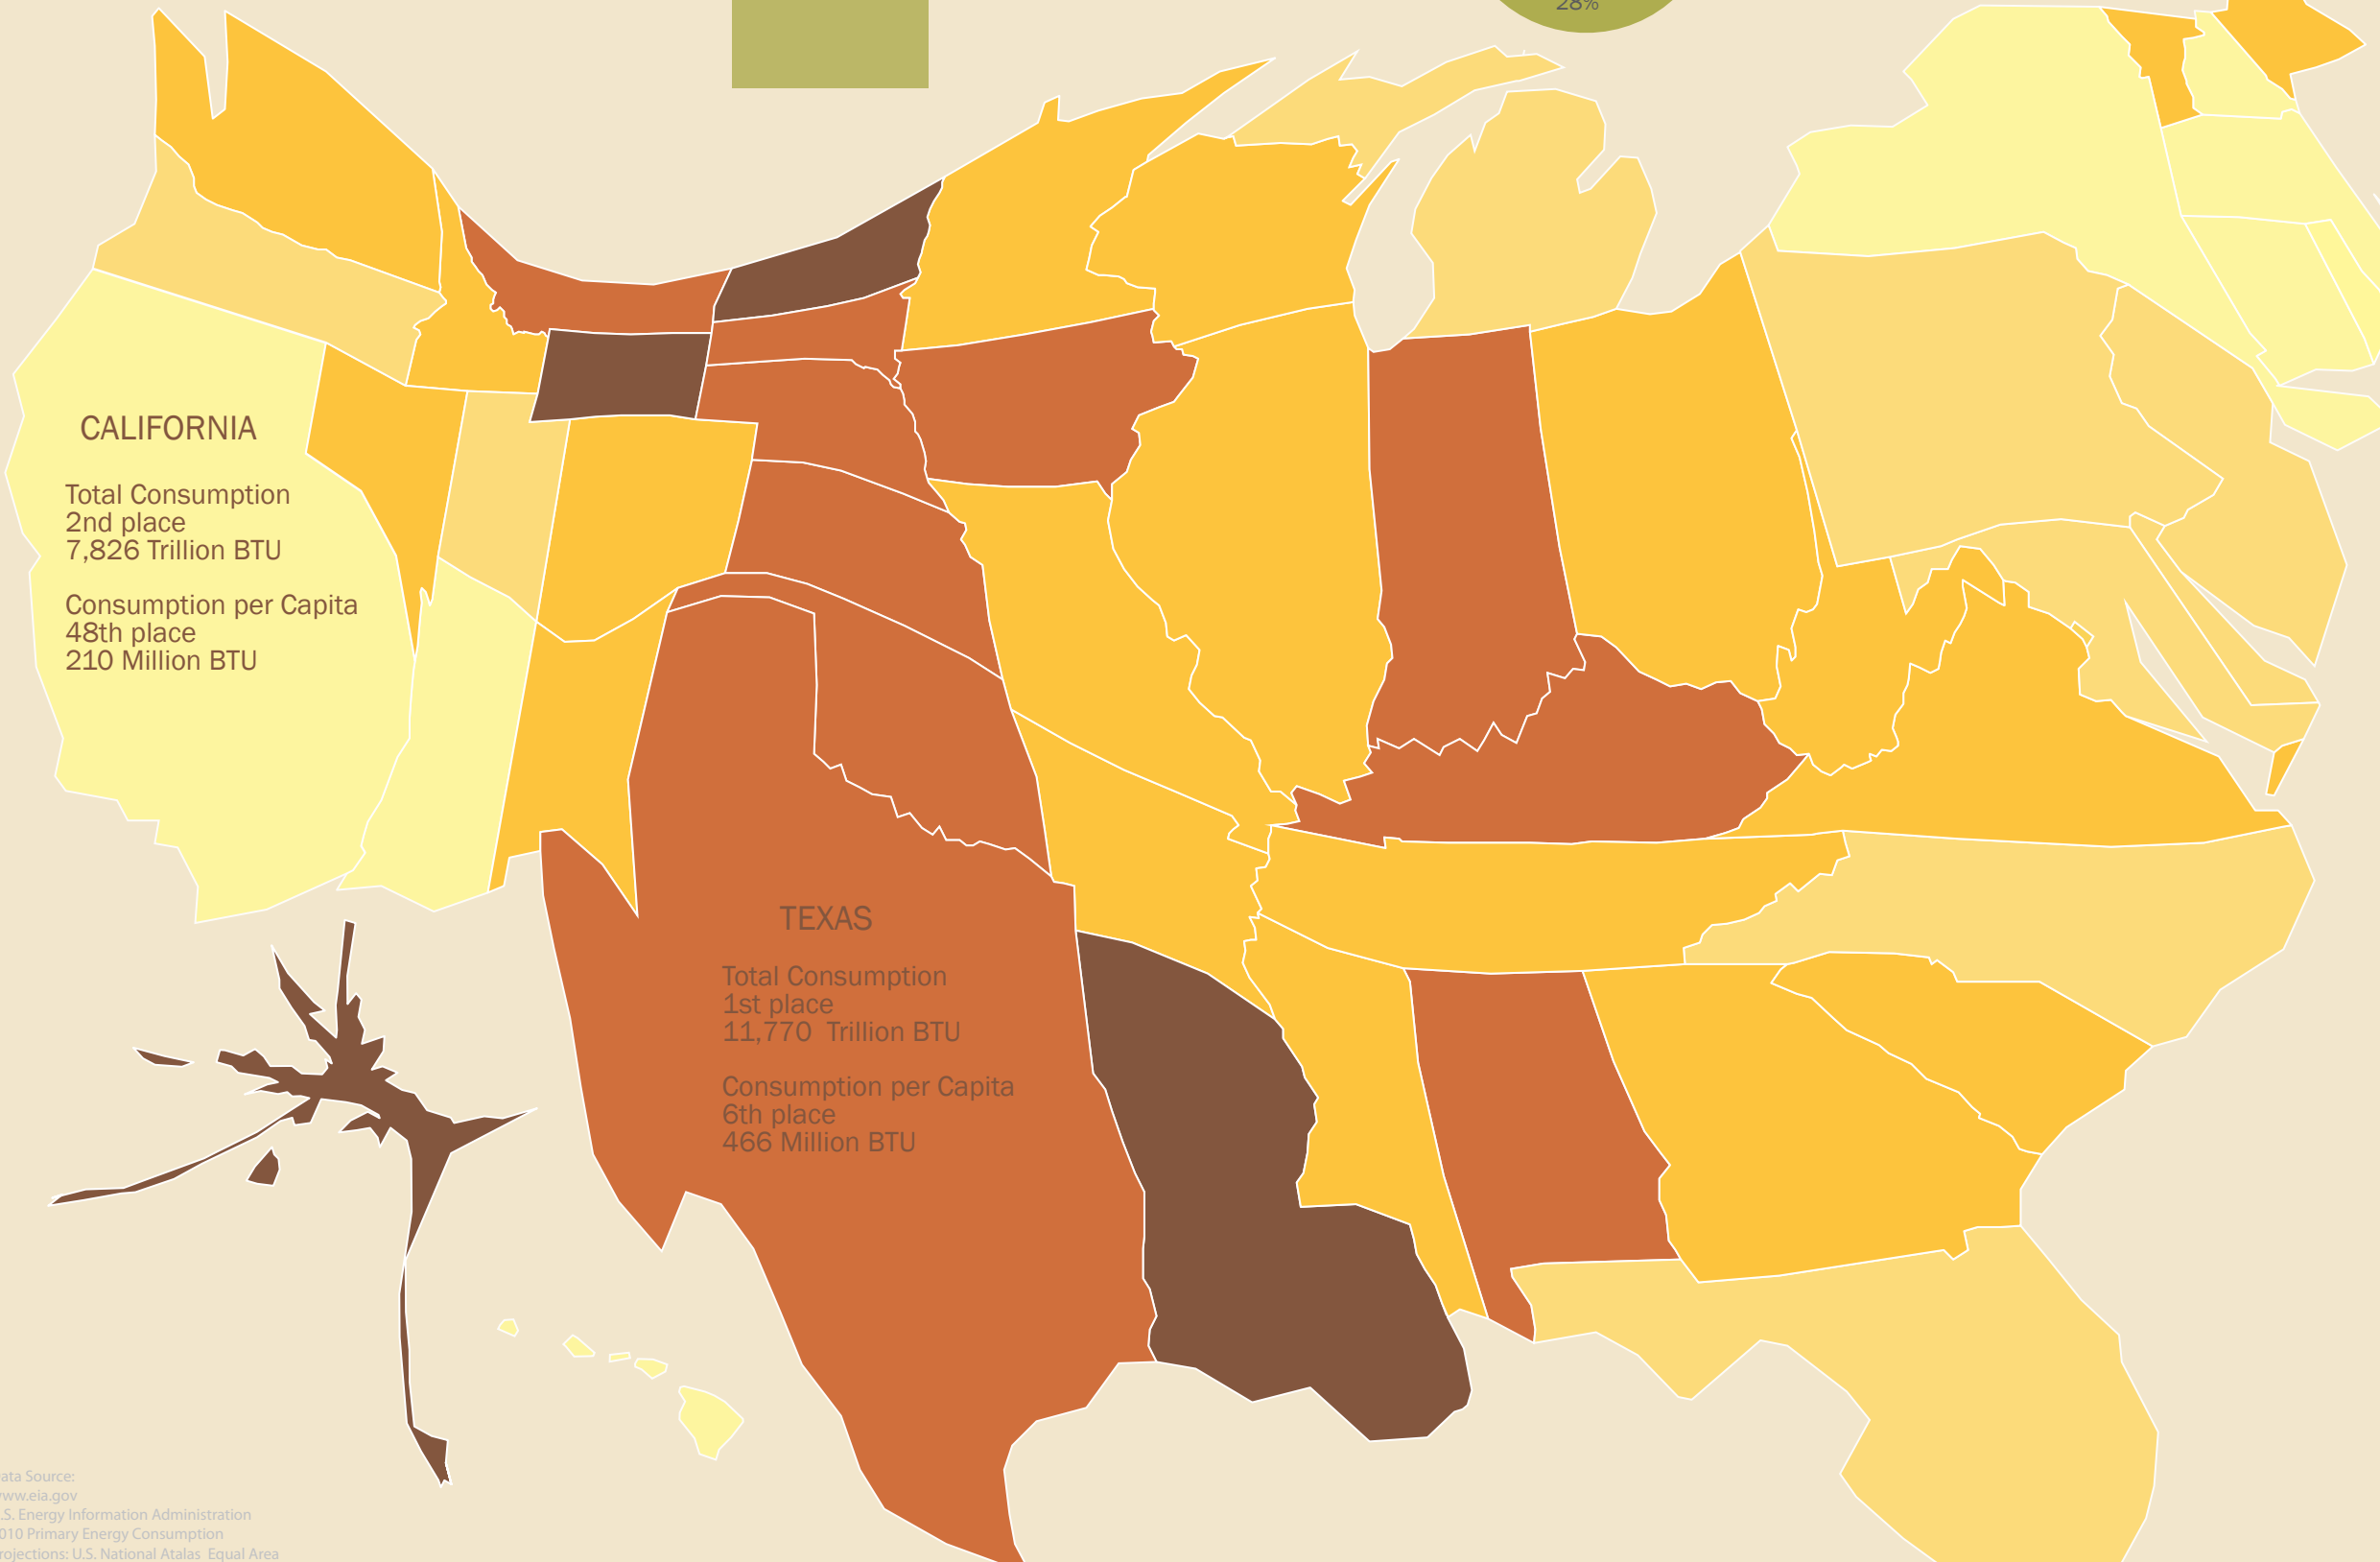

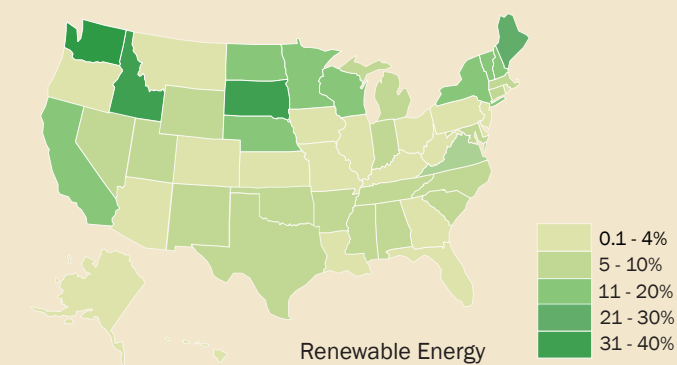

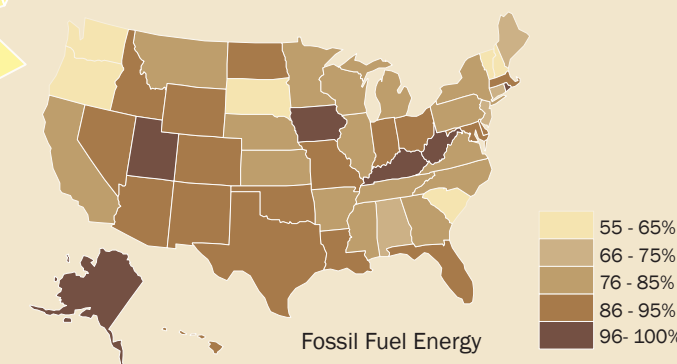

Energy consumption is divided into sectors. Each sector represents a different application of energy. Heating a home for example, is residential, while lighting an office building is consumer.

2. Energy Sources

Average across all states

3. Each Source Percent Use

Data Source:
www.eia.gov
U.S. Energy Information Administration
2010 Primary Energy Consumption
Projections: U.S. National Atlas Equal Area