2012 College Attainment and Household Income Data, by State

California has the highest income, but is in the middle for bachelor degrees.

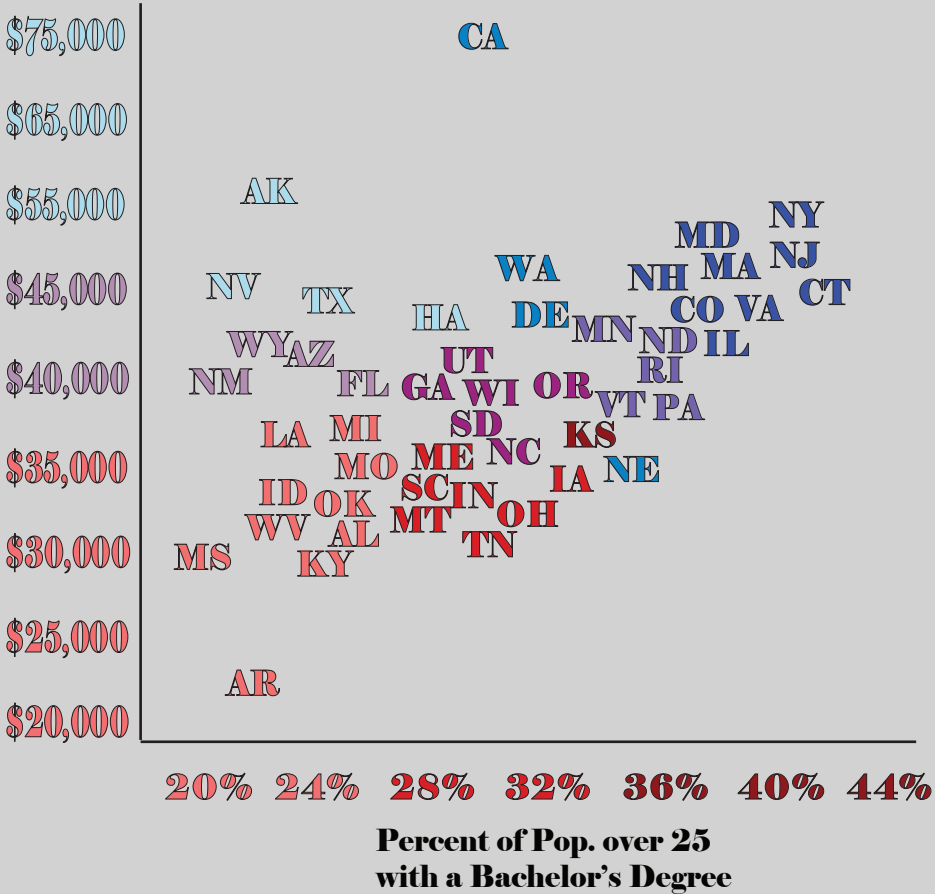

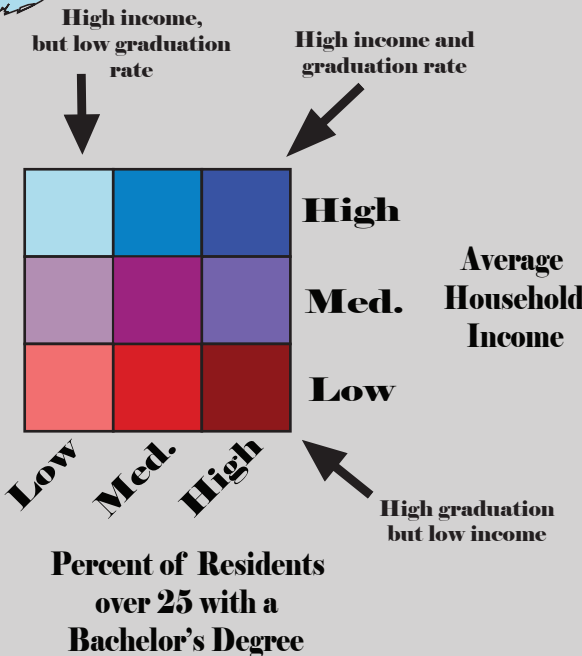

The northeast has the highest concentration of states with high income and education attainment.

The south has several states that are low income and low education attainment.

Kansas is the only state with a high % of bachelor degrees, but low income.

How to Read this Map

This map combines state level data for average household income and percentage of residents over the age of 25 with a bachelor's degree. In certain regions of the country there are clusters of high income and high education, but in other regions we see clusters of lower incomes and education attainment.
