

HATE IN THE U.S.

It is important to note that this map is based off of reported data on hate crimes in 2017 only. Many hate crimes go unreported every single year.

In the United States, an average of 1 hate crime is committed every hour of every day. Regardless of motivation, about 52.7% of these victims are African-American.

Only 18.2% of hate crimes in the United States are committed against a Caucasian individual.

A hate crime is targeted criminal activity that is motivated by prejudice on the basis of race, religion, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, or disability among others.

The statistics used in this visual include only a few of the most common motives across the country.
