

THE CHANGING LANDSCAPE OF SUB SAHARAN AFRICA

By: Bryce Minock

Tanzania has the highest amount of land covered by protected areas in Sub-Saharan Africa. Looking at a map of the most popular tourist destinations in the country over half are protected areas. This shows the vitality of these sites not only for conservation but also for attracting tourists to developing nations in this region like Tanzania.

