

Does Access to Park Space Improve Quality of Life?

A Comparison of Quality of Life Ranking to Number of Parks by County in Wisconsin

Studies suggest that well-being is positively impacted by time spent outside (Foderaro 2023). Further, an investigation into residents quality of life has ranked each of the 72 counties in Wisconsin by measures of physical, mental, social, and emotional health (Forum One 2023). This map investigates the relationship between the number of parks in each county by their subsequent ranking of quality of life.