

FROM GRAPES TO GLASS

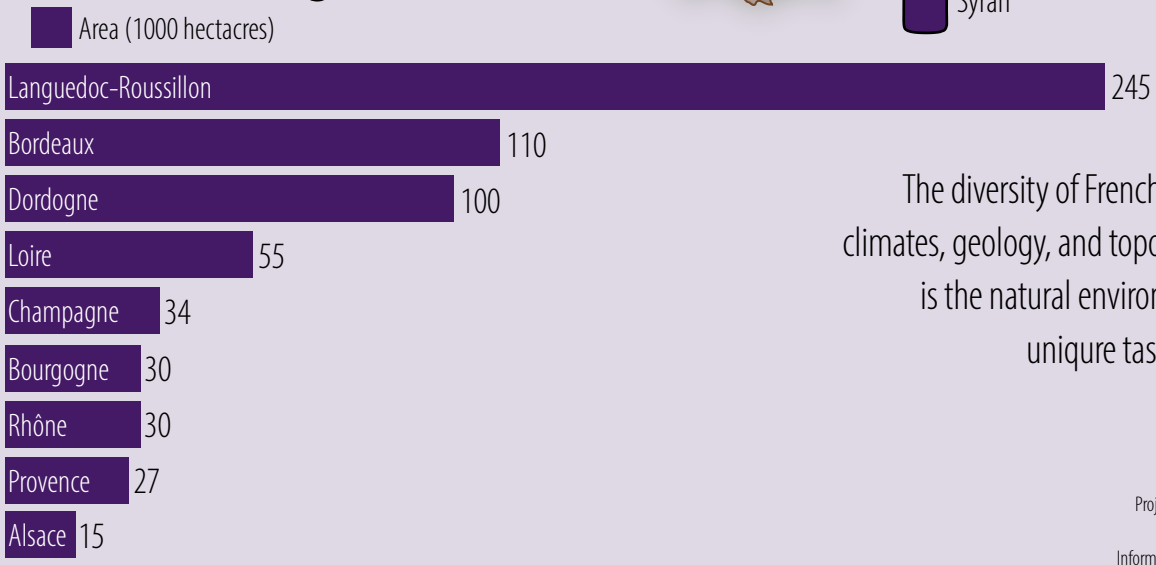

An introduction into what makes each French wine region so unique and the grapes that they grow.

The Wine Production in France industry is valued at €15.2bn and is ranked 1st in Europe in 2023 (of 20 total EU countries).

Dominant Grape Color
 Most important/ most recognized grape varieties in the wine regions.

Total Producing Area

The diversity of French wines is due to the range of climates, geology, and topography across the country. It is the natural environment that gives the wine its unique taste, flavor, and characteristics.